MEANS TO AVERT FUTURE WATER SHORTAGE IN RENO

With the advent of warmer weather it is hoped that the water situation, which has been serious for several days past, will be relieved. Owing to frozen water pipes, about 600 Reno homes, according to the estimate of the Reno Power, Light & Water company, were without water yesterday morning and had to depend on neighbors for their supply.

As a consequence of continued urging by citizens, Mayor Frank J. Byington is planning a conference between the city council and the water company with a view to devising means that will avert the recurrence of a similar situation in years to come.—Reno Journal.

UNACUSTOMED LUXURY

A miner, Adolph Redlund, came into Las Vegas one day last week, and the first thing he did was to go to the barber shop and take a bath. But it was too much for his constitution and he died in the tub. The coroner's jury decided that he had a weak heart, but in spite of that the other miners have decided not to take a bath until next spring opens.

COTTON FIELDS IN PAHRUMP VALLEY

SHOUP-DOCKWEILER CO. WILL PLANT HIGH PRICED CROP IN PAHRUMP VALLEY

Cotton growing on an extensive scale is to be introduced into Nevada this spring when the Pahrump valley company, owned in part by Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific Electric railway, Los Angeles, and Isidore Dockweiler, attorney, seed 200 acres to the fluffy crop, says the Clark County Review.

Frank Huol, farmer of the Pahrump, brought the news of the new crop to Las Vegas this week. The Pahrump valley, which is the other side of the two mile high Charleston peak, and just a few miles west of the Clark county line, promises to be as big a farming community as Las Vegas valley. Artesian wells have been secured, although not in such volume of water as around Las Vegas, the largest well being under 50 inches, according to Huol.

The Pahrump ranch has been farmed for many years, but has been allowed to drift more or less with no strict management for money making purposes. The announcement of the cotton culture indicates that the Shoup-Dockweiler company plans to make the ranch a better paying proposition.

While cotton has been grown in Las Vegas valley and it makes a fine growth, none has been planted on a commercial scale. Many samples of cotton grown have been brought to the local chamber of commerce at various times.

With cotton at 20 cents and the southern growers reaping huge profits from the high prices, the cotton crops should be profitable, and it is probably this fact that has influenced the Pahrump people to plan the new crop.

MAY BUILD RAILROAD UP JARBRIDGE CANYON

The story of a railroad into the camp of Jarbridge is again being revived, but this time there seems to be some grounds for the rumor, says the Elko Free Press. Some time last fall the Oregon Short line sent a crew of men into the Jarbridge country, who spent several weeks in that vicinity. While they made no actual surveys, they did run a number of lines, and found that the most feasible way to get into the camp was up the Jarbridge canyon.

Leaving the end of the spur line built from Twin Falls to Rogerson, Idaho, the road would be continued to a point in Nevada just below what is known as the "Hot Holes," which are in the Jarbridge canyon below Jarbridge about 12 miles. At this point there is a canyon from the deep Jarbridge canyon, running to the east. The road would drop down this canyon to the Jarbridge river, and, turning at right angles, follow up the river to the camp, making the proposed new road about 55 miles long, from Rogerson.

The Jarbridge canyon at the point where the side canyon enters it is fully 500 feet below the surrounding country, and this is the only point known where it is possible to get down to the bottom of the Jarbridge river from the country above. From this point up the river to the mining camp, the walls of the canyon extend from a thousand to two thousand feet up into the clouds, and at places the canyon is so narrow that the rock will have to be blasted away to make room for the rails. But the grade is not bad, and the building of the road bed is possible.

HORSE TOOK TUMBLE FOR ONE THOUSAND FEET

A team and wagon loaded with parcel post mail tumbled over the Cripple grade Saturday afternoon near Jarbridge and dashed to destruction down an almost perpendicular precipice to the bottom, 1000 feet below. The driver and owner, H. P. Craig, jumped in time to escape, while the front team succeeded in getting a toe-hold and broke loose from the wagon. It is estimated here that the team was worth about $600. Many of the parcel post articles will be recovered.—Elko Free Press.

(By Associated Press.)
NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 22.—The captain of the Norwegian steamer Safonia, now in Hampton Roads, told the agents of his line today that he had seen a French cruiser sink off the Madeira islands.

CAPITAL STOCK TAX RETURNS DUE SOON

SCHEDULES MUST BE FILED WITH REVENUE OFFICERS THIS MONTH

Thomas J. Lynch, deputy U. S. internal revenue collector, wishes to impress on everybody interested in the management of corporations that they are compelled to see that their companies make a return on blanks provided by the government before the end of January. The law provides for a capital stock tax of 50c on each $1000 value over and above $50,000, and all companies whose stock and surplus will aggregate in value $75,000 must make the return for the guidance of the internal revenue tax collector.

Corporations refusing or neglecting to file returns within the time prescribed shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $500 and an additional tax of 50 per cent in case of neglect and 100 per cent in the case of a false or fraudulent return.

ONLY ONE INJURED IN HOTEL COLLAPSE

(By Associated Press.)
DOUGLAS, Ariz., Jan. 23.—Messages received from Cananea denied earlier reports that a large number of people had been killed or seriously injured in the collapse of one wall of the Sonora hotel, Sunday night. Gaston Mendoza, aged 22, was the only person killed.

A number of guests, including several Americans, were slightly hurt. W. Julian, proprietor of the hotel and American vice consul, was sleeping in a room on the side which collapsed, but escaped.

AMBITIOUS PLAN FOR SPORTS CLUB

FIFTEEN STORIES TO BE ADDED AND THE AUDITORIUM ENLARGED

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Plans for improving Madison Square Garden, New York's largest amusement arena, and for its transformation into a home for a club to be known as the National Sports Club of America, are announced by Grant Hugh Brown. The price paid for the building was about $2,400,000.

The building is to be remodeled by the addition of twelve or fifteen stories, in which the members of the club will have rooms. The arena is to be enlarged by six thousand seats, making the seating capacity approximately twenty thousand.

The alterations were to be completed by March 5th, when it is expected the first boxing contest under the auspices of the new organization will be held.

PRINCEIPAL IS SOUND SAYS W. J. BRYAN

(By Associated Press.)
MADISON, Wis., Jan. 23.—William J. Bryan declared today: "The president's message is a wonderfully eloquent appeal to the warring nations and entirely sound insofar as it suggests terms of agreement. But I dissent entirely from the proposition that this nation should join the movement to effect peace in Europe. It is inconceivable that the American people would be willing to put the American army and navy at the command of an international council necessarily controlled by European nations and allow that council to decide when we should go to war."

WITHDRAWAL BEGINS AT COLONIA DUBLAN

(By Associated Press.)
JUAREZ, Mexico, Jan. 23.—After ten months and seven days in the field, Gen. J. J. Pershing's outpost troops are moving toward field headquarters preparatory to withdrawal of the punitive expedition from Mexico, according to a military message received here from Casas Grandes late yesterday.

No actual movement of the troops toward the American border from the field headquarters, however, has yet begun, according to this same message. The El Valle garrison started moving toward Colonia Dublan, the field headquarters, early yesterday. It was added, and the entire column of 2500 troops was expected to encamp last night at the Mormon colony, where Gen. Pershing has his headquarters.

The movement is only a concentration of outpost troops, it was said here, preliminary to the withdrawal of the expedition. Other reports received at the Car-

TONOPAH HONORED BY STANFORD BOYS

JOE MURPHY, NEVADA FOOTBALL STAR, FRESHMEN'S CHOICE FOR OFFICE

Joe Murphy, one of the last year graduates from Tonopah high school, has been elected treasurer of the freshmen class of Stanford university, according to advices received here today. Joe is one of the best known boys of Tonopah and one of whom every citizen is proud, owing to the fact that he comes from a family that was one of the first identified with the Tonopah Mining company, and from the further fact that the youth always took an active and prominent part in the doings of the school. He was particularly active in the athletic side, without neglecting his studies, and went to Stanford on the suggestion of a physician that a few years on the coast would add materially to his physical betterment.

JUDGE MARK AVERILL was a passenger this morning to hold a session of court in hearing the case of Thompson vs. Mitchell, a Horn-silver mining litigation.
HUGH H. BROWN, the lawyer, was a passenger this morning for Goldfield on a legal mission.

JACK SALSBERY, the mining magnate and cattle owner, was an arrival from the Kawich range this morning and continued on to San Francisco.

MRS. C. C. CREALOCK, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. B. Sollender, for the past six weeks, returned to her home in Whittier, Cal., on today's train.

ARTHUR RAYCRAFT, cashier of the Nevada First National bank, left this morning for Carson City to attend the nuptials of his sister-in-law, Miss Schultz, to George Montrose, an attorney of Gardnerville.

KIRK PEARCE was a passenger this morning for Ohio. He will stop at Denver en route.

OIL LANDS OWNERSHIP DISPUTED

PRODUCING NEARLY A MILLION DOLLARS MONTHLY FOR SOUTHERN PACIFIC

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Nearly half a million acres of oil land in San Joaquin valley are involved in the government's suit against the Southern Pacific. The testimony shows the company is taking out 900,000 barrels of oil monthly. This will be used to supply the navy if the government wins.

Julius Kruttschnitt, called by the defense, testified that when the railroad got the land he "never dreamed" it contained oil. The government claims fraud. Judge Bledsoe of Los Angeles is hearing the testimony.

WORLD'S POLICY

not tranquility of spirit, and a sense of justice, of freedom and of right."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Senator Cummins submitted a resolution devoting the time of the senate next Monday to a full and free discussion of the president's world peace policy. All other business will be excluded until every senator has had an opportunity to speak no more than one hour. Stone objected to immediate consideration. Action was deferred to tomorrow.

With a policy that is recognized as more revolutionary than any in foreign affairs since President Monroe enunciated his famous doctrine, and indeed with wider possibilities than probably any other step in American history, the administration is preparing for a formidable and a conscientious struggle transcending ordinary political bounds.

Opposition in the entente countries is expected to center on the proposition that this should be a war without victory. Both the entente reply to the president's note and the supplementary statement emphasized the belief that an allied victory over actual German militarism and lust for conquest was essential to any kind of world well-being. The allies have indicated that they believe the greatest moral value that will come from the war would be that of a victory over force and disregard of international treaties.

The demand for freedom of the seas, while indefinite, is expected to cause resentment in England, where it will be pointed out that that has been Germany's chief rallying cry since England entered the war. Throughout England has maintained that the seas are indeed free, that her navy does not contain the menace of a vast land military system, and that it is essential to her far-flung empire. It is assumed that freedom of the seas would be worked out by exempting private property from seizure, as on land, and by limiting the rights of blockade.

PATHFINDER CAR GOING TO CARSON CITY IS LOST

A Pathfinder car scheduled to come via Tonopah from Sacramento did not arrive today as expected. When last seen the car was at Big Pine and will probably be shipped to Mina by rail, when the journey will be resumed. The Pathfinder bears a message on road roads from the governor of California to the governor of Nevada.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—The National Leather association announced a campaign to induce people to have shoes repaired instead of throwing them away. "This would save thousands of dollars daily," they say.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER
The feature at the Butler this evening is the beautiful Rita Jolivet in "An International Marriage." An international marriage is an almost everyday newspaper headline. The best possible insight into the true conditions, so different from American home life, is in this production starring Rita Jolivet. Mile. Jolivet is thoroughly qualified for the part, being an Italian countess by marriage. This love story of international complications is a most attractive setting for this beautiful little actress. It is a picture that ends with a "punch." It bears the Morosco brand, and that in itself is a sufficient guarantee as to the merits of a photoplay. Burton Holmes travels, "The Streets of Cairo," will also be shown. Tomorrow, Anne Pennington, the celebrated Ziegfeld Follies star, in "The Rainbow Princess," a fascinating photoplay of circus life. Coming, the old time favorite, Pearl White. Watch for date. Coming also, a real live road show—not a moving picture.

LIBERTY THEATER
After the first show last evening the new name for the theater was announced, which was "Liberty," and from now on the popular little show-house will be known by its new name. Mr. C. C. Howe was awarded the complimentary pass for six months for his suggestion of Liberty. Mrs. H. D. Moore presented the name "Ye Liberty" and being so close was awarded a one month's complimentary pass. The management was so pleased with the number of names presented that, after Thursday, will present each and every person who tendered a name with two tickets for any performance they desire, if they will call at the office and give their name.

Today, the "Heritage of Hate," featuring Roberta Wilson and Paul Byron. This is a drama of revenge, where poverty is pitted against wealth and affluence in the world. Tomorrow, Robert Warwick plays in "Friday, the 13th." This book was written by Thos. W. Lawson.

BITTER THOUGHTS OF THE BRITISH

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Jan. 23.—The Westminster Gazette asks whether the president would patiently listen to a third party telling him he must be content to end the war without winning or forego penalties against the enemy who had sprung the war, torn up treaties, if he had suffered what the entente have and "have no cognizance of any willingness on the enemy's part to accept peace without victory."

THAWING OF PIPES TO START TODAY

The water company will begin systematic thawing tomorrow morning to avoid the danger of freezing up the entire service. During the extreme cold weather nothing could be done owing to the fact that so many service pipes are within a short distance of the surface and nothing could prevent them from freezing. As an illustration it is stated that yesterday the company thawed out 23 service pipes and before night sixteen of them were frozen up hard and fast. In attempting to accommodate householders on upper Brougher avenue yesterday by thawing a main the sudden pressure broke a pipe near Knights of Columbus hall and delayed repairs for an indefinite period.
